5 SONGS YOU MUST HEAR

THIS WEEK: CRAIG FINN,
THE HOLD STEADY

1 BROTHER ALI DAYLIGHT

"He's an albino, white Muslim rapper from Minneapolis. He put out my favourite record of this year, called 'The Undisputed Truth'. Due to his albinism he doesn't really see - he's legally blind - and he's got all this stuff going on that might make other people have a negative outlook towards life, but he's made the most hopeful record that I've ever heard. It talks about some really heavy stuff, but 'Daylight' is the song that shines through the most, no pun intended. It talks about how he's looking out of the night and into daylight, into the bright parts of life."
