

KERRANG!

MAYDAY PARADE
A LESSON IN ROMANTICS
(FEARLESS)
KKKK

GET READY TO HEAR A LOT MORE FROM THIS MELODY-DRIVEN FLORIDA QUINTET.

IF WE were to figure out the Next Big Thing via MySpace hits alone, then we could guarantee Mayday Parade were about to be bloody massive. At the time of writing, their profile songs have been listened to a whopping 12,122,913 times. Kind of ridiculous for a band you've probably never heard of, right? Not once you hear how consistently heart-warming and likeable they are. What distinguishes them from all the other slick, hook-laden bands emerging from the FOB/Panic school of songwriting is that every little shred of emotion here sounds compellingly genuine. This could well be a new soundtrack for your summer.
