

GLISS devotion implosion

GLISS is hazy experimental fucked up pop.....delightfully wrecked....GLISS is that split second of breathless exhilaration.....GLISS is victoria, martin, and david.....you can find GLISS in los angeles....unless they are touring with the raveonettes, the editors, black rebel motorcycle club, smashing pumpkins or we are scientists....GLISS' second album is DEVOTION IMPLOSION .....you can get your implosion devoted in april '09 on cordless recordings.....you will want to make out with GLISS....GLISS is incestuous.....when GLISS play live, they all play each other's instruments....GLISS will turn you on with their fuzzed-out guitars and krautrock rhythms.....GLISS will love you back.....GLISS have a dark side.....victoria is danish and loves death metal....martin loves the velvet underground and practicing yoga....david likes to drink apple juice every morning and falls asleep to audio books every night .....once upon a time GLISS bought an '85 ford diesel van and converted it to run on veggie oil before heading out on a lengthy tour.....the van broke down stranding them in the middle of nowhere, texas.....GLISS was had by a shifty mechanic but there's no reason to be mad because GLISS won a new van from guitar center for having the best tour horror story....GLISS is happiest blowing your mind.....DEVOTION IMPLOSION feels like the morning after.....it was mixed by garth jones .....

garth jones is pretty cool for working with GLISS...and depeche mode, liars, wire, nick cave and these new puritans.....GLISS took it all off at a huge show in norwich, england...the promoters in london and manchester threatened not to let them play until GLISS promised that they would not play naked...so martin stripped down to his british flag underwear in london.....GLISS is being up all night.....swirling ominous fuzz.....an overdose of sound.....chaos..... dark propulsion beauty....rock 'n' roll...excess...drowned in aural pleasure..... GLISS is shattered soundscapes that melt you into a DEVOTION IMPLOSION
