

GUITARWORLD.COM POLL ↘

What's Your Favorite Song on Guns N' Roses' Use Your Illusion?

We asked, and 27,040 of you responded. Here are Guitar World readers' picks for the top 10 songs from Use Your Illusion.

*All other songs make up the remaining 15 percent of votes.

INTRODUCING

Get Scared
Best Kind of Mess
(Universal Motown)

SOUND With their goth-rock looks, catchy emotore sound and high-profile gigs opening for Black Veil Brides and Escape the Fate, Utah-based trio Get Scared are primed for break-out success with their debut CD, Best Kind of Mess, on which guitarists Johnny B and Bradley Lloyd dish out copious melodic lines and rousing breakdowns.

KEY TRACK "Sarcasm"

Grouplove
Never Trust a Happy Song
(Canvasback/Atlantic)

SOUND After meeting at an artist residency on the Greek island of Crete, the members of Grouplove, who hailed from New York, L.A. and London, were so inspired that they all moved to Los Angeles to pursue their musical collaboration. Their resulting debut full-length boasts an eclectic indie sound full of tasty harmonies and powerful anthems.

KEY TRACK "Tchin on a Photograph"

Kyng
Trampled Sun (Realid Records)

SOUND Recalling the heavy grooves of Sabbath, Queens of the Stone Age and Soundgarden, SoCal hard-rock trio Kyng kick out the jams on this crushing debut. Singer/axman Eddie Veliz leads the way with muscular riffs and soaring vocals, while bassist Tony Castaneda and drummer Pepe Clarke Magaña provide the thunder down under.

KEY TRACK "Trampled Sun"

Go to GuitarWorld.com/Introducing to listen to these bands.