

PARTYNEXTDOOR is a 23-year old singer, songwriter and producer from Mississauga, Ontario signed to Drake's OVO Sound. He released his self-titled, critically-acclaimed mixtape in July of 2013 led by singles "Over Here" and "Break From Toronto." His debut brought him widespread attention and earned him vocal contributions on Drake's "Own It" and "Come Through" on his 2013 album Nothing Was the Same. Shortly after, Drake invited him on tour for his "Would You Like A Tour?" concert that Fall alongside Future and Miguel. PARTYNEXTDOOR released his follow-up mixtape PARTYNEXTDOOR Two in July of 2014, led by the Drake-assisted single "Recognize" and then joined seven dates on the "Drake Vs Lil Wayne Tour", which was followed by his own 42 city sold-out "PND Live" world tour. Party also wrote and produced on the records "Legend", "Preach" and "Wednesday Night" for Drake's groundbreaking mixtape If You're Reading This It's Too Late. PND later earned his first Billboard #1 as a songwriter in January 2016 with Rihanna's lead single "Work" from her eighth studio album, ANTI. The song maintained its spot at number-one on the Billboard Hot 100 for 9 consecutive weeks. In March 2016, Party released "Come and See Me" which features fellow artist Drake, from Party's highly-anticipated second studio album, PARTYNEXTDOOR 3 (also known as P3). The video for "Come and See Me", was the first music video to premiere on Snapchat, gaining millions of views on all platforms worldwide in the first day. PARTYNEXTDOOR's highly anticipated album P3 is out August 12, 2016 on OVO Sound / Warner Bros.