To celebrate the release of "Come Together," Clark will do a Facebook Live session today at 1:00 P.M. ET here.

Clark has taken one of the most iconic Lennon/McCartney compositions and found a way to create something completely new in the process. A massive Beatles fan, Clark approached this project with a sense of respect and brevity. The end result retains the original aesthetic while recombining the molecules into something uncompromising and sonically powerful. You can hear part of "Come Together" in the trailer for Justice League here.
